“Through CLO Connect we want to bring CLOs together to share their experiences and overcome some of their strategic challenges.”

Nigel Paine, chair, CLO Connect

Nigel Paine has been involved in corporate learning for over twenty years. Appointed in April 2002 to head up the BBC's Learning and Development operation, he now runs his own company focusing on building great workplaces by promoting creativity, innovation, values based-leadership and learning and the link between them.

Information when and where you want it.

- Personal introduction Before you even begin your first meeting, tell us what challenges your organisation faces and what you want from the network. We'll then introduce you to the group.
- 90 minute consultation You'll have an exclusive opportunity to engage in intelligent and pragmatic debate with chair, Nigel Paine, one of L&D's most respected figures. Meet in person or virtually. Discuss your ideas, challenges, successes and strategies in a safe and non-judgemental environment. Take away new perspectives and approaches. Use the full 90 minutes or split into shorter, convenient sessions.

Your time is precious. We do the hard work of finding you important and relevant content.

- Daily articles Daily Flipbook of aggregated content from CLO publications around the globe - easy to view on mobiles and tablets.
- Weekly curated content Weekly email with links to professionally curated articles, complete with reading time estimates and based around a current industry talking point. All curated content is archived on a website and made fully searchable.
- Monthly webinars 30 minute webinars focused on finding practical solutions to current issues.
- Quarterly meetings Around 4 hours of networking, debate and problem-solving with other CLO's. Always in London. Always based around your agenda.

“

CLO Connect provides a time and place in which to focus on the challenges and opportunities of the CLO role. What makes this group more valuable is the freshness of thinking and challenge that it brings to the learning space. Whether it's the benefit of a helicopter view or an urgent response to an issue, CLO Connect meets my needs. There's simply no better place to network, compare notes, instigate research and create connections with my peers who are leading the workplace learning industry of the future.
